

French firm buys SaaS provider

Horizontal Software, France-based provider of management software, has bought LPDR Ingenierie, a company specialising in E-recruitment in SaaS.

Horizontal says that this acquisition will help strengthen its position as the leading partner for organisations seeking to optimise the complex management of their resources. However, LPDR Ingenierie will keep its own identity, it says.

LDPR Ingenierie designs software solutions for recruitment and has developed the relation hr recruitment software, a tool for recruitment departments of enterprises and for HR firms, it says. It was founded 15 years ago.

“The LDPR Ingenierie offering is fully SaaS-based, like ours, and will complement our resource optimisation solutions. We will be able to offer our customers a more complete software suite with the E-recruitment modules of LPDR, which, for its part, will be able to continue to roll out its market-recognised solutions. In addition, we will combine our expertise to develop new innovative products” says Hervé Yahi, CEO of Horizontal Software.

View article online ▶